FRANCIS WILKINSON TAKES THE LEAD

Heads the Lists With 65,000 Votes Closely Followed by The Misses Brightman, Johnston, McDermott,
Lamb and Hayward—Judges Appointed
And Grand Ball to be Given

Now's the day, and now's the hour,
See the front of battle lower;
See approach the closing hour,
We will win or die.

With this sentiment expressed, and the contest drawing to a close, the contestants are now making their final stand in this great popularity battle. The contest has run nine weeks and during the whole time the strife has been keen and to the point. The girls now are working hard and the next week will see the fray deadlier than ever.

This week a surprise was sprung on us all by the blooming up of a new leader who entered the race last week with five thousand votes. She has been working hard during the past week and this week and now she leads the race.

The girls have made rapid strides but the race can easily be counted even as yet. The next ballot will be No. 10 and then we write "Finis" to the last chapter.

"Finis" is not yet. There is still another treat in store for the energetic candidates and their host of friends.

On Friday night April 22nd there will be given by the News Publishing Co., in McCue's Hall, Bowden, a Grand Ball at which the winner will be announced. This is free to all the contestants and their friends and we can promise a grand time will be had.

The count will be made on Friday night April 22nd, Mr. J. C. Cutten of Olds, Mr. McCue of Bowden, and Mr. Watt of Innisfail will act as judges.

This change of the closing day has been made as the ball would come right in the middle of the week and might interfere greatly with you attending it. Some of you will have quite a distance to drive to get here, so we think that this change will be more satisfactory to all. Now all the contestants must make it a point to be there with their friends and share the grand time promised them. Come Friday night and have Saturday and Sunday in which to rest and return home.

Do not be slow in sending in your subscriptions and ballots, and be sure that they reach us before closing hour. Get in all that is possible next week and be on the safe side. The girls in the districts where the mail service is poor should heed this timely warning.

This week the standings show as you may see a new leader, Miss Francis Wilkinson and a steady gain on the old leader, Miss May Brightman of Mountain House by the Misses Johnston, McDermott,

Dial and Hayward. Some of these girls had stopped working some weeks ago, but did not like the idea of being "quitters" so started again in the race with renewed vigor; while others have only been in it during the closing hours.

The piano is a Heintzman, its merits needs no advertising, and the girl who wins it will have a "Thing of Beauty and a Joy Forever". The pony and watch are well worth the effort, and if you don't win the piano you have a good chance to win one of the other two. Below is the standing of the class.

Robinson the star batters of Bowden for the past three years proved too much for the Bachelors who nevertheless made a good showing at the bat, and with a little practice will be able to wallop the ball all over the field, if the two teams ever meet again in deadly combat. The bachelors used two pitchers, Brotherson and Rollans, while Buchanan looked after the hot ones behind the bat. At no stage of the game did the bachelors show the white feathers, and the game was a fight to the finish.

Fair Warning TO FAIR CONTESTANTS

THE "Great Piano Contest" is drawing to a close—in the issue April 14th will appear the "No. 10 Ballot." You will have until Friday evening, 6 p. m. April 22nd, to get your votes to the News office, Bowden. A grand ball will be given in the evening—free—to contestants and their friends. The prizes are worth an effort—so get your friends to assist you and hustle yourself. There is no "cut and dried winner"—the one who gets the most votes wins. Now, who will be the "most popular young lady between Red Deer and Calgary?" Will it be you? We have asked three of the most handsome men in Olds, Bowden, and Innisfail—R. J. Cutten, the popular hardware merchant, Olds; Robt. McCue, of the Quality Store, Bowden and the homesomest one of the Watt Bros. of Innisfail, to act as judges in this contest. It is needless to say that the girls will receive a fair and impartial count.

The photos of the winning young ladies will be printed in the papers after the contest. Our readers should not be backward about sending in their subscriptions and assisting their girl-friends to win the piano—just your votes might help her to win. Send in your subscription or want adv. at once and state who you want credited with the votes. After 6 p. m. Friday, April 22, it will be too late—do it now. And come to dance and be in at the finish. The names of the winners will be announced at the dance and in the papers.

MALCOLM KIRK

A Tale of Moral Heroism
In Overcoming the World.

By CHARLES M. SHELTON,
Author of "In His Steps," "Crucifixion of Philip Strong,"
"Robert Hardy's Seven Days."

Copyright, 1900, by the Advance Publishing Co.

Malcolm Kirk spent a Sunday in Chicago, and Faith had the great delight of hearing him preach in the church where she had gone to the evening service that eventful Sunday before. They took tea with the pastor that evening, and the next day Malcolm started back to Conrad.

Malcolm Stanley went with him. There was, if the truth must be told, a secret disappointment in the heart of the young Englishman that Faith was not going home too. But the two men said goodby cheerily to Faith and were whirled out into the west, while Faith went back to her work with a brave heart, in spite of a little feeling of homesickness that crept over her at the sight of the two stalwart figures on the platform of the receding train.

Her relations with the Fultons were decidedly different now. She was careful not to presume in the least on the change in their thought of her, and when Mrs. Fulton asked her that day if she would not sit down at the table with them she said she preferred not to, which was entirely true, for Faith believed that if she was to serve the family as she ought at mealtimes she must be ready to do so in the most effective manner. And she knew she could not do so if she ate with the rest.

Mrs. Fulton was much relieved at Faith's action in that particular. It seemed to Faith, however, that when Sunday morning came and Alice asked her to come into the family circle to prayers she ought to go, and she did so quietly and enjoyed it.

When evening came, Alice wanted to go to church with her, and Mrs. Fulton did not say anything. The new order of things was unheard of, but a girl whose family friends included men like Francis Raleigh and Malcolm Stanley was not an ordinary hired girl, and Mrs. Fulton reasoned with herself accordingly.

But before that Sunday came Faith and the artist had gone to see the famous lady photographer, who had taken a liking to Faith at the beginning. She readily agreed to take Faith on trial at the end of the month, and Faith went back to her kitchen quite exultant at the prospect.

"If I could only send $10 or even $5 a week home, I'd be the proudest girl in this city," she said as she prepared the dinner that evening. "And then, in time, perhaps I can have a studio of my own like Miss Varney's. I know I have plenty of artistic ideas, and maybe one or two of them are original."

So she sang light hearted as she worked, overcoming the world of her selfishness and her trials, for it was not all heaven on earth always even in that well appointed kitchen, and there were many things to fight without and within.

But when the time of her stay with the Fultons was out she parted from them with genuine regret. It is very certain that Mrs. Fulton dreaded exceedingly to "break in" the new girl and at the last she even urged Faith to remain another month.

"We will give you $5 a week if you will only stay," she said anxiously. "And you can play the piano if you want to," she added, with a short laugh and a little embarrassment.

"I'm sorry, really sorry, to leave you, Mrs. Fulton. You have been very good to me. But I feel as if the Lord meant me to do something else. Perhaps"—Faith said it a little vaguely, but she had brooded over it a great deal while at work in the kitchen—"perhaps I may be able to do something to make American girls willing to go out to service."

"I wish you could. Really you have no idea what I have suffered from my help in the last 20 years," sighed Mrs. Fulton.

Roy was inconsolable. He wanted Faith to bake up 100 or 200 apple pies and leave them in a cold storage plant near by, so he could have something to eat between meals.

"Tell you what I'll do," he said a week before Faith's time was up. "If you will bake a pie every day and send it over from the studio, I'll give you my kodak. It's new, but I'm tired of it anyhow."

Faith laughed, but declined the offer. "Then I'll give you the kodak anyway," said Roy, and he insisted on Faith taking it, and his offer was so pressing that she had not the strength to refuse. At the earliest opportunity she sent him a photograph of a street urchin eating a pie, holding it in both hands, and Roy delightedly framed it and hung it up in his own room after his mother had refused to let it adorn the top of the sideboard in the dining room.

But Faith experienced the sincerest regret in parting from Alice. The two girls entered into what proved to be a really genuine friendship. There was not a particle of pride or jealousy in Alice's nature and not the least feeling of social caste. She wanted Faith to show her how a certain finger exercise on the piano was best done and more than once expressed the greatest admiration for Faith's accomplishments. The friendship thus begun has lasted to the present moment. Then there began a new life for Faith. She seemed at last to have found her place in the world. Miss Varney was more than delighted with her. "That girl," she said to Francis Raleigh, who called at her studio a month after Faith had been there, "has brought more new ideas into my work than all my other assistants. She will make her mark in the profession."

Faith was in the next room and could not help hearing what was said, unknown to the artist. She trembled with pleasure, and when she wrote home that night she gave her mother a glowing account of her work and its hope for future success. It was with the keenest pleasure that she was able to inclose in this same letter $10 which she had saved from her earnings in the studio.

CHAPTER XX.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY AT CONRAD.

So the winter quickly passed, and spring melted into summer, and then a growing plan developed in Faith's mind. She had not been able to crowd it out of her "heart thoughts," as she called any ideas that kept making her think of other people. Even her rapidly developing artistic power could not prevent the silent, increasing, powerful pressure of an idea that she had also a mission to perform for the good of people in a certain peculiar way.

"I shall have to go home and talk it over with father before I can settle it right," she kept saying to herself all summer, and when fall was ushered in and she could see the frosty mornings on the prairie and call up in memory the sound of the prairie chickens out in the cornfields and see the great stretch of sky that was never possible in the smoky city, with its ugly piles of buildings that shut out sun and air, then Faith grew really lonesome and homesick and one day she resolutely told Miss Varney that she must go home for a little visit.

"I don't blame you my dear. Go out home and breathe some fresh prairie air and photograph some Kansas ideas and come back with them, and we will make our fortune."

"I don't know about getting photographs of Kansas ideas," replied Faith, "but I do know about the prairie air. And I'm going to get some."

So Faith ran out to the Fultons, said goodby to them and Francis Raleigh at the same time and started for home that day.

She had written home, telling of her coming and when she reached Conrad there were father and mother and the boys at the station and a little back of that eager group a stalwart, manly figure, Malcolm Stanley, who had come in quite suddenly the day before from New Mexico. It is not exactly certain how he knew that Faith was coming home or, indeed, if he knew anything about it, but it is very certain that he was there at that time and that Malcolm and Dorothy had given him a hearty welcome.

"You're just in time to help our church celebrate our twenty-fifth anniversary," Malcolm had said to him. His church was planning in a quiet way for such an anniversary, and it pleased him much to think that Faith was to be at home in time and also that Stanley could be with them.

That was a wonderful homecoming for Faith. The experiences she had been rehearsed in the family circle, and there never had been so much hearty, pure laughter in the paragon since it was built. In the frosty evenings they sat around the one open fire in the parlor, and even Malcolm shut up his study and joined the group early, talking over matters with Faith and entering into all her new plans with the enthusiasm of a boy. Dorothy smiled often through happy tears as she looked at her children and saw them growing up into sturdy, useful lives, and in her heart she thanked the Great Father continually for such treasures, worth more to her and her husband than all the gold and silver in the world.

"I want the boys to go to Phillips academy next fall," Faith said, with an air of one possessed of untold riches. "That's where father graduated, and it will be a fine thing for them to follow him there."

"Splendid!" exclaimed Malcolm. "I've always dreamed it would be so."

"Art is long," continued Faith, "but I'm sure I can win some of the prizes for the best photographic ideas offered by the eastern papers. If the boys had $100 apiece, they could enter the school and earn their own way for the most part, couldn't they, father?"

"Of course they could," replied Malcolm, and he told of some of his own experiences as a boy in academy and college life.

"It seems to me, Mr. Kirk, that you have done a little of everything in your lifetime," said Malcolm Stanley, who sat in the family circle and somehow seemed quite like one of them.

"Everything except looking out for himself," said Faith quietly.

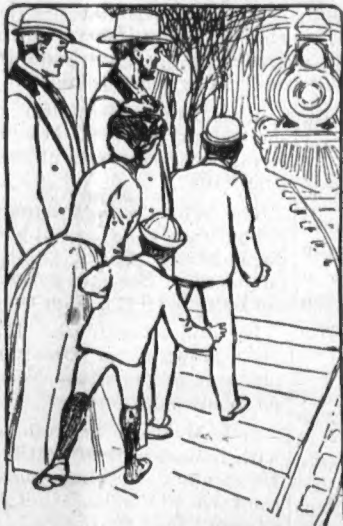

"The Lord has blessed us very much," said Malcolm, looking at Faith tenderly. "I'm afraid your poor old father has had to fight a good many hard battles against selfishness that he hasn't told you about. Your mother might tell you how bad I am if she wanted to."

"I don't feel like doing it now," replied Dorothy as her eyes rested on Malcolm's plain, loving face, and her love for him was stronger than ever.

"But about my plan, father," said Faith after they had all been silent before the fire. "What do you think of it? Can I do anything that way?"

"It is worth trying," said Malcolm very thoughtfully. "It will take a good deal of wisdom. Do you think you can do it and carry on your art studies too?"

"I don't know," Faith spoke softly. "But now just think of it. Here is the fact: Thousands of families all over the world are dependent for their physical and mental and moral comfort upon the kind of service they have in their kitchens and homes. Now, if it is the case, why isn't it possible to dignify and elevate such service to a point where a girl who goes out to work may feel that she is doing a really noble thing in helping to keep a whole family in the comfort of body and peace of mind that will make the family more happy and more useful in the world? That is the 'hired girl' problem in one sentence. My plan is to start with Christian families and with Christian girls and get each side to realize what household service can be made to do. I believe a circle of such people can be formed in such a way that gradually the homes and the girls will be organized into a mutual helpfulness, and it will be more honorable and better financially and morally for a girl to go out to service than to go into a store or an office even, at least for a time, for it really takes more brains to be an efficient cook and housekeeper than to stand behind a counter and sell notions."

There were father and mother and the boys at the station.

Buying an Ancestor.

The famous Quarterly Reviewer, Mr. Abraham Hayward, once thought that he should like to have some ancestors. So he walked to Wardour street, where one can generally pick up an ancestor or two of the Cornish period. Selecting a portrait of a cavalier in half-armour, with features not quite unlike his own, Mr. Hayward made a bid for it, but deeming the price asked too high he went his way.

A fortnight after, the ancestral fever coming strongly upon him, he went again to Wardour street, prepared to pay the dealer his price. The picture was sold. A few days later Mr. Hayward went to dine with Lord Houghton, and was astonished to see the picture in the dining-room. Seeing that it attracted his guest's attention, Lord Houghton said:

"Very good picture that; came into my hands in a curious way; portrait of a Milnes, of the Commonwealth period—an ancestor of mine."

"Indeed!" said Mr. Hayward; "he was very near being an ancestor of mine."

An Odd Ferryboat.

A ferryboat in use in the harbor of Glasgow is supplied with a deck which can be raised and lowered seventeen feet. In fact, it is a floating elevator. This feature is necessary because of the difference of the levels of the two landing stages made use of by the craft.

Sporting Notes.

The New York Yacht club has 2,300 members.

San Francisco is to have a half mile motordrome.

The flag to flag automobile contest from Denver to the City of Mexico will start from Denver May 1.

Herrernon, the South African, and Gardiner of London, the two latest long distance runners to turn professional, will meet in a match race in London about Easter time.

Notre Dame college, for the first time in its history of athletics, has two foreigners making a strong bid for positions on the varsity baseball nine. Falomir, a Mexican, and Gamboa, a Cuban, are almost finished products of the great American game.

The international chess congress will open at Hamburg on July 10. Dr. Lasker, Dr. Tarrasch, Carl Schlechter, A. Rubenstein, Geza Maroczy, Dr. Janowski and Frank J. Marshall will be invited to play in the grand masters' tourney, and eighteen lesser experts will play in a minor event.

Things Theatrical.

Carlotta Nilsson is to star in "The Conflict."

Douglas Fairbanks is to star in a play by Owen Davis.

Haddon Chambers is to write a musical comedy, called "The Best Girl," which Charles Dillingham is to produce.

It is said "The Virginian" may be revived, with the three Farnum brothers—William, Dustin and Marshall—in the cast.

There are 112 people, comedians and singers, in the cast of "The Silver Star," the great production in which Adeline Genee is dancing this season.

Henry B. Harris produced Sydney Rosenfeld's play, "Children of Destiny," in Syracuse, N. Y., recently. Orrin Johnson is playing the leading role.

Progress and Labor.

Automatic machines which clean 3,600 fish an hour are in use in the salmon canneries of the Pacific coast.

The so called satin finish on the surface of aluminum is produced by rubbing the metal with a steel brush.

Coal mines of the United States gave employment to 630,438 men last year, nearly 10,000 more than the year before.

A dressmaking establishment in Boston almost entirely operated by electricity has an electric cutter capable of cutting out 250 thicknesses of cloth at once.

Electric Sparks.

A complete plant for curing meat by electrical processes has been erected at Cleveland, O.

Japan controls practically all the wireless telegraphy in the empire through its department of communications.

The wireless apparatus on the Cunard liner Caronia is the most powerful of any in steamship service, having a radius of 1,200 miles.

A new windmill apparatus for generating electricity for farm use has been perfected in England. A storage battery supplies the current when the wind is not blowing.

German Gleanings.

Marriage is now on the decrease in Germany.

In some parts of Berlin there are beer saloons which are patronized exclusively by women.

Fish is now one of the chief means of subsistence of the German people because of its comparative cheapness.

Germany forbids the use of boric acid in curing meats and requires that all meat pickled in salt or brine must contain at least 6 per cent salt in its innermost part.

Hypnotic Power.

Riggs—Do you know that the most savage beasts can be subdued by the human eye?

Boggs—Certainly. Why, I have known fellows who could make editors buy their stuff merely by persistent and emphatic use of the "I."—New York American.

A Misapprehension.

"Dear, dear! How did you come to fall in?" asked the old gent. "I didn't come to fall in," blubbered the boy. "I came to fish!"

Lest You Forget.

The Editor and Manager of the Durk's Falls "Arrow," is only human. This being so it is not surprising that he should feel and suffer as other men. Mr. Alex. Fawcett says: "I had a very severe attack of La Grippe which left me very weak, spiritless and run down. I seemed to have lost all ambition. 'At this point I realized that my condition was likely to become more serious unless I took myself in hand. One day while in this 'Half dead and alive condition' I was listlessly looking over recent types of my paper, 'The Durk's Falls Arrow' (of which I am Editor and Manager), when my eyes rested on an advertisement of PSYCHINE. This clearly and explicitly set forth a case so exactly resembling my own that I at once purchased a bottle at the Medical Hall. After taking two or three doses I felt like a new man, and before half the second bottle had been used, every trace of the bad effects of La Grippe had left me. 'PSYCHINE' is a marvel and I have strongly recommended it to some of my friends similarly afflicted and they have used it with equally beneficial results."

The Lady and the Fortune Teller

One of the new women visited a Boston fortune teller.
"Lady," said the fortune teller, shuffling the cards, "the fate decrees that you will visit foreign lands. You will mingle in the court life of kings and queens. Conquering all rivals, you will marry the man of your choice, a tall, dark, handsome gent of distinguished ancestry—in fact, a peer of the realm."

"Will he be young?"

"Yes; young and rich."

The visitor in her excitement clutched the seer's arm.

"But how," she cried eagerly, "how am I to get rid of my present husband?"

CURE WAS QUICK AND COMPLETE

DAME PARENT'S HEART DISEASE CURED BY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

She Suffered for Two Years but Now Advises All Troubled as She Was to Give Dodd's Kidney Pills a Trial.

St. Robert, Richelieu Co., Que. (Special).—"I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all my friends." These are the words of Dame Joseph Parent of this place. And the good cause gives excellent reasons why she does so. "For two years," she says, "I suffered from Heart Disease, Headache, Backache and a dragging sensation across the loins. Seven boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me. I hope all who are troubled as I was will give Dodd's Kidney Pills a trial."

Some people may ask how Dodd's Kidney Pills, which are purely a Kidney remedy, can cure Heart Disease. And the answer is simple. Diseased Kidneys fail to drain the impurities out of the blood. If these impurities are left in the blood they not only increase the work of the heart in propelling the blood through the body, but act on the valves causing disease. Pure blood removes the cause of the disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills make pure blood by putting the Kidneys in condition to strain all the impurities out of it.

Stood No Chance

Won Fame on its Merits.—The unbounded popularity that Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil enjoys is not attributable to any elaborate advertising, for it has not been so advertised, but is entirely due to the merits of this Oil as a medicine. A MODERN MEDICINE FOR YOUNG CHILDREN

No sane mother would wish herself treated under the conditions of medicine or surgery of half a century ago. Why then should she give her tender little child the old-fashioned medicines that have not changed in half a century, and which more likely than not contain poisonous opiates that will not cure the child, but merely drug it into temporary insensibility. Baby's Own Tablets is a modern medicine prepared with all the care and skill of modern medical science. This medicine cures all stomach, bowel, teething and other ailments of childhood and babyhood. And the mother has the guarantee of a government analyst that it contains no opiate or poisonous drug. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Why She was Happy

Last summer Louise Closser Hale, author and actress, and Dorothy Donnelly, a sister professional, went to Europe. On the way across the Atlantic, Mrs. Hale inspired the admiration of a handsome boat flirt, whose attentions she evaded until one sunny morning he encountered her in enraptured contemplation of the summer sea as she leaned over the rail. He approached, and in propitiatory tones inquired:

"What, may I ask, makes you so happy to-day?" And Miss Donnelly from her deck chair saw Mrs. Hale look up at him with a beautiful smile and say:

"Because I don't know you."

MY FREE TRIAL TREATMENT MAY CURE YOU

Dear Mrs. Currah.—I feel so very much better after using the 10 days' treatment of ORANGE LILY you were kind enough to send that I will not require any more. In fact, I feel entirely well, and it is now a month since I stopped using the treatment.

Similar letters to the above are not infrequent, though, of course, such cases are not of long standing. Most women who have suffered for any length of time will require to use ORANGE LILY longer than the Trial Treatment in order to effect a complete cure, but in every case they will be perceptibly benefited. Further, the benefit will be permanent whether they continue to use ORANGE LILY or not. It is not taken internally, and does not contain any alcohol or other stimulant. It is an applied treatment, and acts directly on the suffering organs. In all cases of women's disorders, these organs are congested to a greater or lesser extent, and congestion just as positively and certainly as the action of ammonia or soap on soiled linen. It is a simple chemical problem, and the result is always the same, a step towards better health and complete cure.

In order that every suffering woman may prove its good qualities, I will send enough of ORANGE LILY for 10 days' treatment, absolutely free, to each lady who will send me her address. MRS. FRANCES E. CURRAN, WINDSOR, ONT. 10

It Costs $40.00 For Doctor's Visit

On Alberta's Prairies—DR. CHASE'S Medicine and Receipt Book Very Popular Out There.

The luxuries of city life are little known in the prairie homes of Western Canada. When sickness comes people find it necessary to depend on their own resources to a great extent on account of the difficulty and expense of a doctor's visit.

By reading the letter quoted here you will form some idea of how Dr. Chase's Medicines and Receipt Book are appreciated in Alberta. This is not only due to the convenience of having these medicines on hand when occasion requires but is also owing to their wonderful reliability.

Where will you find such a restorative treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to enrich the blood, strengthen the nerves and build up the run down system?

Mr. Geo. Clay, Oxville, Alberta, writes: "I have always been a great admirer of Dr. Chase's Medicines and have had his large Receipt Book for over twenty years. His medicines and book have saved me many doctor bills and have proven wonderfully effective. It costs $40.00 for a doctor to come out here, so it is rather expensive to get sick.

"I recommended Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to a friend of mine for his wife. He studied the symptoms in Dr. Chase's Almanac and found she needed Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to restore her worn out nervous system. I gave him some of this medicine until he could get to town when he got two boxes more and these cured her entirely.

"For myself I used Dr. Chase's Catarrh Powder with splendid results. For some time I was bad with catarrh and could not breathe through my nose. Now I go to bed and never wake all night and breathe all the time through the nose."

The Postage Stamp Inventor Who invented the postage stamp? A writer in Chambers' Journal points out that the inventor of the "adhesive postage stamp" as undoubtedly Rowland Hill. In 1837 he proposed the use of "a bit of paper just large enough to bear the stamp, and covered at the back with a glutinous wash, which the bringer might, by the application of a little moisture, attach to the back of the letter." No evidence that will bear the slightest scrutiny, we are told, has been produced to support the various prior claims to the invention of the adhesive postage stamp.

SPRING BLOOD IS BAD BLOOD

How to Get New Health and New Strength in the Spring

Even the most robust find the winter months trying to their health. Confinement indoors in often overheated and nearly always badly ventilated rooms—in the home, the office, the shops and the school—taxes the vitality of even the strongest. The blood becomes thin and watery, or clogged with impurities. Sometimes you get up in the morning just as tired as when you went to bed. Some people have headaches and a feeling of languor; others are low spirited and nervous; still others have pimples and skin eruptions. These are all spring symptoms that the blood is out of order. Many people rush to purgative medicines in the spring. This is a mistake. You can't cure these troubles with a medicine which gallops through your system, and is sure to leave you weaker still. What you need to give you health and strength in the spring is a tonic medicine and the one always reliable tonic and blood-builder is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills not only banish spring ills but guard you against the more serious ailments that follow, such as anaemia, nervous debility, indigestion, rheumatism, and other diseases due to bad blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new, rich blood which strengthens every nerve, every organ and every part of the body. Try this medicine this spring and you will have strength and energy to resist the torrid heat of the coming summer.

Mr. Geo. W. Johnson, Hemford, N. S., says: "A couple of years ago when I came home from a lumbering camp where I had been employed my blood was in such a condition that my whole body broke out in boils—some six and eight in a nest. These were so painful that I was confined to the house and for three months was treated by my family doctor. I got no better; in fact the sores began to eat into my flesh, and at times were so offensive that I refused to sit at the table with my family. A friend asked me one day why I did not give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial and I decided to do so. I got six boxes and before they were all gone the sores began to disappear and my system was much strengthened. I continued using the pills until I had taken twelve boxes when every boil and sore had disappeared, and I have since enjoyed the very best of health."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A DR. JOHNSON STORY.

Illustrating the Difference Between Assertion and Argument.

Among the anecdotes of Dr. Johnson is one written not by his biographer, Boswell, but by another contemporary, Dr. John Moore. It is illustrative of Johnson's manner and the importance he gave to argument properly conducted. Dr. Moore said that he was one of a company at Mr. Hoole's. Mention was made that counsel were to be heard in a certain case at the bar of the House of Commons. One of the company asked Sir James Johnston if he intended to be present. Sir James answered that he believed he should not, because he paid little regard to the arguments of counsel at the bar of the House of Commons.

"Wherefore," asked Dr. Johnson, "do you pay little regard to their arguments, sir?"

"Because," replied Sir James, "they argue for their fee."

"What is it to you, sir," rejoined Dr. Johnson, "what they argue for? You have nothing to do with their motive, but you ought to weigh their argument. Sir, you seem to confound argument with assertion. But there is an essential distinction between them. Assertion is like an arrow shot from a longbow—the force with which it strikes depends upon the strength of the arm that draws it. But argument is like an arrow from a cross-bow, which has equal force whether shot by a boy or by a giant."

The narrator of this incident said the whole company was struck by the aptness and beauty of this illustration, which certainly was expressed in clear and forceful English and with few of the Latin derivatives with which the good doctor delighted to ornament his sentences.

One of the company said, "That is indeed one of the most just and admirable illustrations that I ever heard."

"Sir," said Dr. Johnson, "the illustration is none of mine. You will find it in Bacon."

Wealth at the Bar.

Just entered upon his seventieth year, Mr. Justice Bigham is one of the many eminent lawyers who have first started on other careers. Before devoting himself to law he spent five years on the Liverpool Exchange. Educated in Paris and Berlin, he had already acquired a knowledge of languages that was to prove of excellent service to him in the courts. But it was not destined to be all plain sailing for him at the first. "What on earth has induced you to come to the Bar?" was the discouraging question asked by Lord Russell of Killowen when the future Justice Bigham entered the chambers of the famous advocate as a pupil. It was a question that took the pupils some years to answer! During his first twelve months at the Bar the young lawyer earned only seven guineas, though later on, when he had succeeded Lord Russell of Killowen as leader of the Northern Circuit, his income was one of the largest ever earned at the Bar. Until a few years ago there was a certain judge distinguished among other things for the unpunctuality with which he began the judicial day. On one occasion Mr. Bigham, then one of the busiest advocates in the Common Law Courts, waited twenty-five minutes for his arrival. Having a second case to attend to in another court he went out to see how it was faring, and while he was gone the unpunctual judge made his appearance on the bench. "I have waited five minutes for you, Mr. Bigham," exclaimed his lordship impatiently when the busy counsel returned. "My lord," was the bold retort, "I waited five times as long."

Dickens and Pickwick in Court.

What is perhaps the most interesting piece of furniture in the legal centre of London belongs to Mr. Henry Fielding Dickens, K.C., whose sixty-first birthday was celebrated a short time ago. It is the desk on which his father, Charles Dickens, wrote nearly all his novels. Where the famous novelist penned "Martin Chuzzlewit," with its delightful description of the Temple fountain; his son, the distinguished K.C., has prepared many a statement of claim and defence. Mr. Dickens was once briefed because he was his father's son. A witness in the case bore the name of Pickwick, and Mr. Dickens was chosen to examine him. He happened to be engaged in another court when the case was reached, but Sir Frank Lockwood, who was particularly anxious not to be deprived of the pleasure of seeing Mr. Dickens examine Mr. Pickwick, addressed a note to Mr. Justice Hawkins, asking him to adjourn the case, and the learned judge, entering into the spirit of the request, at once granted it. When Mr. Dickens was able to attend and called Mr. Pickwick the whole court was delighted with the coincidence. "I do not know, gentlemen," observed Mr. Dickens to the jury, "whether Mr. Pickwick will appear in his gaiters." The eagerly-looked-for witness proved to be one of the thinnest men that ever stepped into the witness-box.

Effect of Irrigation.

Forty years ago the stretch between El Monte, in Los Angeles county, and San Bernardino was known as the Forty Mile desert and was somewhat dreaded by teamsters. Today, thanks to irrigation, there are to be found in that section some of the finest vineyards and orange groves of California.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Misplaced Blame

A young couple of Liberty were walking past a drygoods store when the wife stopped to admire some of the dresses. After a moment she returned to where she had left her husband and grasping an arm complained: "You never want to stop and look at anything that interests me. You don't care for me any more. You haven't kissed me for three weeks."

"It's not my fault, but my misfortune," replied the man politely. It was not her husband.—Kansas City Star.

The chief thing that keeps young women from wishing they were men is they couldn't have such nice, long wavy hair.

Women's Beauty

It Can Never be Perfect Without Luxuriant Hair.

A head of luxuriant hair is sure to be attractive. But nature has not crowned every woman with glorious hair. Some very lovable women she has treated scantily in this respect.

For instance, there are tens of thousands of women in Canada to-day, who have harsh, faded and lusterless hair, who are unattractive simply because they do not know that nowadays even the whims of nature can be overruled by the genius of science.

If you are a woman without beautiful hair, do not permit your attractions to be hidden because of this slight misfortune.

Go today to Perrin's Drug Store and buy a large bottle of Parisian Sage for 50 cents, use it each night, and you will notice the harsh, repulsive hair disappear, and in its place will come soft, silky, bright and luxuriant hair.

Parisian Sage is guaranteed by S Perrin Bowden to cure dandruff, itching of the scalp, and stop falling hair in two weeks, or money back.

RENOUNCE THEIR RIGHT

HOUSE OF LORDS RENOUNCES RIGHT TO LEGISLATE

Pass a Resolution to the Effect that Possession of the Peerage no Longer Gives the Right to Sit and Vote in the House of Lords—A few of the Old Guard Make Strenuous Opposition to Passing of Resolution

London.—By a vote of 175 to 17 the house of lords renounced the hereditary right to legislate, which has been the cardinal element of the British upper house for centuries. The occasion of the fate of the usual division was Rosebery's third resolution dealing with the reform of the house. The house agreed without opposition that reform of the constitution was necessary.

The complimentary resolution which passed was: "That the necessary preliminary to such reform is acceptance of the principle that possession of the peerage no longer itself gives the right to sit and vote in the house of lords."

The resolution indeed might have been carried unanimously but for the resolute pugnacity of two tenacious old fighters, Earl Halsbury and Earl Wemyss, the latter of whom has been actively identified for many years with military affairs and who is still virile despite his 92 years. Earl Halsbury is young and strenuous at 85, and he lately voluntarily returned to the judicial bench to relieve a sick judge.

These two champions led the old guard. Some speakers who supported the resolution could not find in it any negation of the hereditary principle. Among those was the Marquis of Lansdowne, who pointed out to the house it was possible to vote for the resolution full of the intention of proposing afterward that the house should consist entirely of hereditary peers.

The resolution, he said, was a necessary gate to three main principles, namely: The removal of black sheep, reduction of numbers and a remedy for disparity in party strength.

The Earl of Bathurst, one of the old guard, gave the house a good laugh, solemnly warning the members if they threw away their hereditary right their descendants to the third and fourth generations might turn and rend them.

Members of the government among the peers refused to give more than a platonic approval of the resolution, to which the lord chancellor said, they ought not to attach fictitious importance. Nevertheless he (Earl Crowe), Viscount Morley and other Liberal peers voted with the majority.

C.P.R. Time Card Changes

Calgary.—Commencing June 1, when the new summer time table is brought in the C. P. R. will inaugurate a tri-weekly midnight train from Calgary to Strathcona. There has been considerable agitation from this service, and the company will put it on for a month, to see if the patronage warrants it, if there is the demand it will be continued. The trains will leave Calgary about 24.30, and although the exact time nor the days have yet been decided they will likely be Mondays.

A local train will be put on daily between Calgary and Bassano, commencing April 4. It will leave Calgary at 18.30 and arrive at Bassano 21.30. The local leaves Bassano at 7 o'clock in the morning and arrives at Calgary at 10.15.

The Macleod branch is to have a train on Sundays soon. When the summer time table is brought in the evening train out of Calgary will start on the regular time and from Macleod the trains will leave Sunday mornings. There have been no Sunday trains on the south branch, and this seven-day service will prove a great convenience to travellers.

Huge Deal Put Through at Edmonton

Edmonton.—A huge land deal in which a purchaser put up nearly a million dollars in cash, was put through here recently in which N. G. Boggs, of Saskatoon, bought 80,000 acres in the Beaver Hills district east of Edmonton at a little over $10 per acre.

This is the largest cash land deal ever put through here. Owners of the property were J. A. Powell and T. W. Lines, of Edmonton.

The spring rush of land seekers to this district commenced this week, fully a month ahead of last year. Hundreds of homesteaders are applying for land in Grand Prairie northwest of this city, thirty townships of which are being opened this year.

Eastern Provinces Lethargic

London.—At a meeting of the Canada company, the chairman, J. C. Weld, respecting emigration said the governments of Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick seemed lethargic when compared with the western provinces. The Canada company could not compete with the advantages offered further west.

Outbreak of Rioting

Calcutta.—Religious rioting has broken out at Feshawak, and in the first clash between the Hindus and Mohammedans seven were killed and forty injured, and many shops were rifled. Troops restored order with difficulty and at present the town is heavily guarded.

Empire Shooting Matches

London.—It has been decided to hold the Empire shooting matches on July 1 and 2.

RUSH FOR THE WESTERN LANDS

Tent Headquarters Established by the Commissioner in Alberta

Winnipeg.—So great is the rush of new settlers into the Alberta land district east of the irrigation land that the commissioner of immigration has found it necessary to establish tent headquarters every thirty miles in the territory and some of the most capable officers of the force have been sent to look after the new comers.

Bassano and Brooks are the headquarters for these camps, and stations are located at Fieldhouse on the Red Deer river, which is thirty-five miles north of Bassano. Another camp is located thirty miles due north in township 29, range 13 and a third at Lake Sullivan township 34, range 14.

North of Brooks there is a camp at a rancher's house on the Red Deer river, one in township 26, range 7, and one in township 31, range 4.

The officers in charge are Messrs. Spiers, Roy, Fidler, Kennedy, Jr., and Humphrey.

Three carloads of equipments have been sent from the hall here to fix up the various camps.

To Prosecute False Graders of Grain

Ottawa.—F. C. T. O'Hara, deputy minister of trade and commerce, when questioned in regard to the reports which have been sent out from the west to the effect that prosecutions are about to be instituted by the department against owners and operators of western elevators on a charge of making fraudulent returns as to the grading of grain, admitted that an investigation had been in progress.

He was not at liberty to say, however, as to what has been ascertained as to the truth of the charges. The statement is made that grain is being mixed in certain elevators in a manner contrary to the provisions of the grain act, for the evasion of which heavy penalties are provided. Superior and inferior grades have been blended in such a way that wheat when exported to foreign markets is down to the minimum of its class.

A serious result of this practice is that the market price of grain is considerably affected.

It is stated that the railway companies are in no way affected. Under the provisions of the grain act heavy penalties are provided for mixing of grain. It is understood that the inquiry, in so far as it has been carried on, has been confined to an investigation by the officers of the department.

New Scale of Rates for Canadian Press

Ottawa.—Apart from important ruling by the board of railway commissioners that flat rates on press despatches must be abolished, the most important result of the press rate conference concluded here recently, was that the telegraph companies agreed to withdraw the tariffs filed under judgment given on application of the Western Associated Press and file new tariffs to be acceptable to the newspaper managers, and the railway board will hear objections later on. As the commission will hold sittings in Winnipeg in the course of a month any representations which the western newspapers desire to make will be heard there. Eastern publishers will if necessity arise, be heard at Ottawa. At recent sittings of the board objections of western newspapers to the schedules filed were presented by Mr. M. E. Nichols, president of the Western Press.

Why Britain Cannot Stand With U. S.

London.—Sir Edward Grey, foreign secretary, explained in the house of commons that the British government was unable to support actively the United States government in its Chin Chow-Aigun railroad plan, because of the provisions of the Anglo-Russian agreement of 1899, which has never been formally abrogated. The foreign secretary added:

"To interpret this attitude as running counter to American and British commercial interests is an entire misrepresentation. The United States government has been kept fully informed of this government's views and of the view of the Anglo-Russian government agreement, upon which they are based."

Sore at Britain

Liverpool.—The Post says: "There is some soreness among big game shots over the Roosevelt expedition."

"They are asking why the British government should have afforded special facilities to the expedition which has resulted in the acquisition by America of very rare specimens which up to now are conspicuous by their absence from museums in England and as yet has denied the privilege of shooting over these preserves to Englishmen."

Lesson from Colonies

London.—Pember Reeves, discussing the second chambers in the empire, said the colonies had taught Britain the lesson to have nothing to do with second chambers on a life basis. Although the upper house in Canada was appointed for life it had not often been in conflict with the lower house because the lower house is somewhat inconsequential, and it had not introduced drastic social reforms, penal taxation or other novel experiments.

The All Red Route

London.—In the house Mr. Seeley, under secretary for the colonies, said the matter of an all red route was still under consideration, but he could not say when the decision would be arrived at.

PLACE ORDERS EARLY

ADVISE ORDERING COAL IN THE SUMMER TIME

At a Conference of Mining Men and Railway Officials, it was Decided to use Every Effort to Urge the Consumers to Place Orders for Coal in the Summer and thus Avoid the Chances of a Winter Coal Famine.

Lethbridge.—A meeting of mine owners and railway officials was recently held here to discuss important questions. It has been felt that too many of the dealers, business men and consumers of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba delay ordering their winter's supply of coal till late in the fall or early in the winter. It is felt that it would be much better for all concerned, for the consumer, for the transportation company, for the producers, for the miners and for the country at large if stocks of coal were stored in the coal sheds on the prairies during the early summer months. The consumer would then be safe from any danger of a coal famine in any early or extra severe winter.

The transportation companies would be able to have more cars left in the busy season for the transportation of grain after harvest. The producers would find steady orders coming in all the year around and so could give more steady employment to the miners who would feel assured of work all the year around. The country at large would benefit first in the fact of there being then no fear of a coal famine on the prairies for such would be a serious thing, growing more serious as settlements become thicker, and one serious coal famine would undo much advertising of the immigration departments. The mining towns and the business men of those towns would also benefit for there would then naturally be more permanent citizens and the payrolls would not fluctuate as much as under the present system of a period of rush followed by a period of idleness.

Such was the problem for which the railway men and coal operators met to consider. Many suggestions were offered but while all felt the need of some remedy nothing definite was accomplished. One of the operators hinted at a solution of cheaper freight rates during the slack season, but the railway officials feared to descend the bill for an ascent again might be difficult.

It was decided to use every effort to urge stores, banks, municipalities, schools and public buildings as well as the dealers to store up their coal supply during the months of May, June and July, then if some farmers and citizens could not store up their winter's supply earlier in the season they would be better insured against a famine, for these other heavy consumers already mentioned would have been supplied before winter set in. Of course those who are able to buy may hesitate considering the interest on their money, but when the vast increase in settlement is considered a great calamity might easily happen if all delayed ordering their supply till winter when the great demand might be such that sufficient coal could not be procured for either home or money, no matter how severe the weather may be.

Big Saving in Hudson Bay Route

Ottawa.—A saving of probably $100,000 has been effected and much difficulty avoided in the construction of the Hudson Bay railway northeast from The Pass, Man., according to reports just received from there and incidentally Engineer W. J. Gifford, of Ottawa who is in charge has received commendation from Chief Engineer J. A. Armstrong for the splendid location he found for the road. Some time ago it was announced in a Winnipeg despatch that a huge muskeg had been encountered on the line of the railway, which had rendered a stoppage of work necessary and unless a new route were found made the prospects of delay certain. A report just received states that a route has been chosen which is not only free from difficulties, but is two miles shorter than the other being a distance of 58 miles between two points, whereas the other was 60 miles.

Neighborhood of Mt. Etna in Danger

Rome.—Seven violent earthquakes of volcanic origin occurred at Mileto, province of Catanzaro, recently. Similar shocks were felt at Messina. They awakened and scared the inhabitants. Meanwhile news spread in Catania that Mount Etna suddenly had become active and that a new eruptive mouth had opened and was emitting lava. Later reports said the eruption was at a point between Castello and Albanello. The lava is extending and descending towards Volta Girolema.

A despatch received from Catania the other day says the eruption is increasing. Four new months have opened and the lava is invading the cultivated lands and approaching the villages on the sides of the mountain especially Nicolot.

Will Meet All Rate Reductions

Montreal.—The Grand Trunk announces a reduction in the grain rates from Georgian Bay ports to Montreal to four cents to meet the American rate of four cents from Buffalo to New York or Boston. It is further announced that they will meet any alteration the American roads may make. A peculiar feature of the situation is that owing to the high prices prevailing in the west not a bushel of grain is being offered for shipment.

CEASE WORK ON WATERWAYS

Survey Parties North of Lac la Biche Working on Location of Road Have Been Called In Edmonton, Alta.—Work on the location of the Alberta & Great Waterways railway has practically ceased, and all plans for the carrying forward of construction beyond the first fifty miles of the road north of Edmonton have been abandoned, pending the completion of the investigation into the Great Waterways.

Survey parties who had been working on the location of the road north of Lac la Biche, and who have been called in, partly for the reason, it is said, that supplies had given out, and mainly for the reason that work was to be suspended, reached the city, and it is understood that all survey parties on the line are to be called in.

Construction is to proceed, however, upon the first fifty miles of road north of Edmonton, and contracts have been awarded for clearing of right of way. This work is being proceeded with.

Another official has reached the city to become a member of the Great Waterways staff. This is H. Lumsden, formerly of the engineering staff of the Manitoba government, and father of the former chief engineer of the Grand Trunk Pacific, over whose resignation from that company an investigation is now being held at Ottawa.

Mr. Lumsden, it is understood, will be connected with the construction department of the Great Waterways in conjunction with F. S. Darling, formerly of the C. P. R., who is to have charge of construction on the new road.

Explorer Honored by American Society

Washington.—In the presence of President Taft and an audience which taxed the capacity of convention hall, Lieut. Sir Ernest Shackleton gave a graphic description of his dash for the South Pole. The lecture was under the auspices of the National Geographical Society.

Lieut. Shackleton paid high tribute to the men who accompanied him on his dash. He said if he had had fifty pounds more of solid food he would have reached the pole.

The first mention of either of the recent Arctic explorers as made by the president in his speech, presenting the Hubbard medal on behalf of the National Geographical Society. Standing face to face with Lieut. Shackleton, the president said the medal was the evidence of the society's high appreciation of the marvellous work that you have done in the cause of science; the endurance, courage and intelligence shown in the pursuit of a definite object.

"I am sure," he continued, "that you will more appreciate the medal as it comes from the National Geographic Society, that has among its prominent members that distinguished American, Commander Peary, who, while you were working at the South Pole, was himself surrounding the North Pole."

The lieutenant in making his reply, said he felt sure that the English people would receive Commander Peary as cordially when he lectured in England, as he (Shackleton) had been received since he stepped on American soil.

To Open Factories in Western Canada

Medicine Hat, Alta.—R. R. Stoner, Canadian government agent at Medicine Hat, states that arrangements have been made whereby six large American industries will, within the next thirty days, establish branches or remove their entire plants to Medicine Hat. The industries include a 2,000 barrel flour mill and elevator, a sash and door factory, a general machine shop, a foundry, a sawmill, a machinery manufacturing company, and a farm implement manufacturing firm.

The sites for the location of the industries has been located on the spur track running into the Red Cliff Brick company's plant, and the derrick is now being erected to drill a gas well to furnish power for the various plants.

Mr. Stoner has spent the winter in securing data regarding the cost of the raw material, freight rates, etc., for these concerns, and reports in addition to the industries which have completed arrangements to establish at Medicine Hat, a number of others have asked to be furnished with similar information with a view of also taking advantage of Medicine Hat's cheap power.

These include a glass works, a tannery, a cream separator company, an iron bed and mattress company, an upholstered furniture factory, a boot and shoe factory, and a glove factory.

Received Like a Monarch

Cairo, Egypt.—Theodore Roosevelt and party arrived recently in a special car. The honors extended were equal to those accorded a monarch. Glittering lines of troops held in check seething crowds. A heavy bodyguard was provided, the government taking every precaution against attack by Nationalists who are highly incensed by Roosevelt's criticism of their politics. The chief event of the day was a reception by the Khedive.

Homeseekers Come West

Toronto.—During the past twenty-four hours six hundred citizens of western Ontario have left Toronto to seek homes in Western Canada. Most of them were married men with families of five or six children, and were splendid Canadian types.

Select Immigrant Children

London.—The Lambeth Guardians have selected twenty-two pauper children for emigration to Canada.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON I.—SECOND QUARTER, FOR APRIL 3, 1910

Text of the Lesson, Matt. ix, 18-34—Memory Verses, 28, 29—Golden Text, Mark ix, 23—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

This lesson gives an account of four different acts of healing upon five different people—the ruler's daughter, twelve years of age; the woman twelve years sick, the two blind men and the demon possessed dumb man. Matthew, Mark and Luke record the first two, but Matthew alone tells of the others. All are equally easy to Him to whom nothing is difficult when there is confidence in Him. The principle of verse 29 holds all through, "According to heaven again araweth nigh. May we, must always remember that these were samples of the kingdom which was then at hand, but because of His rejection postponed till He shall come again. As I understand it, we cannot expect kingdom manifestations in this age of His rejection except as He may in great grace see fit to grant them. But as the age draws to a close, which it is rapidly doing, we may look for greater signs as the kingdom of heaven again draweth nigh. May we, like Stephen, be full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, full of faith and power.

The other accounts of the first two healings are found in Mark v and Luke viii. There we are told that the man's name was Jairus; that he was a ruler of the synagogue; that he fell down at Jesus' feet and besought Him greatly, for his little daughter was lying at the point of death, and she was his only daughter. Jesus arose and followed Jairus, and so did His disciples, and much people also followed Him and thronged Him. Consider the anxiety of the father's heart and his expectation, for, although he had not heard the words "I will come and heal her" (vii, 7), was not the Lord Jesus Christ with him, and was not that assurance enough for Jairus?

But in the throng that pressed upon Him there was one desolate heart—a woman who had been ailing for twelve years and, having spent all that she had upon physicians, was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse. She, having heard of Jesus, had such confidence in Him that she said within herself, "If I may touch but His clothes I shall be whole." She accordingly pressed through the crowd behind Him, touched the border of His garment and was instantly healed of her illness of many years.

Most gratefully and gladly would she have slipped away without troubling Him further, but He had more for her than she had dared to expect. He had a personal word for her heart full of peace and assurance. Before she could get away Jesus, knowing all things, asked who touched Him, for he knew that virtue had gone out of Him. The disciples were surprised at His question, seeing so many touching Him, but the woman came with fear and trembling, fell down before Him and before all the people declared why she had touched Him and how she had been immediately healed. Then came to her the added unexpected blessing in His precious words to her heart; "Daughter, be of good comfort; thy faith hath made thee whole. Go in peace and be whole of thy plague." Instead of the unrest she might have had because she had, as it were, stolen a blessing, she had His own word of "peace." Then she might have had some symptoms of a recurrence of her trouble, and the devil would be sure to be on hand with some unrestful suggestions, but now she had not only an experience, but His infallible word that she was healed, and had He not called her "daughter," and wasn't that worth while? Let all secret believers confess Jesus Christ publicly and see what additional blessing will surely come to them.

Put all this delay has seemingly made Him too late to help the little girl, for before He reaches the house messengers come, saying that she is dead. As soon as Jesus heard it He said to Jairus, "Fear not, believe only, and she shall be made whole" (Luke xii, 50). And quickly it is even so and she is alive and well and eating like any well child. Only the father and the mother and Peter, James and John were present at the raising to life—just seven, including Jesus and the little girl, the unbelieving scorners all without. Let us be "most surely believers, knowing the certainty" of all His words (Luke i, 1-4). He is never too late, and nothing is too hard for Him who created all things.

Two blind men follow Him into the next house, into which He enters, begging Him to have mercy on them. His one question was, "Believe ye that I am able to do this?" Their affirmative reply brings His "According to your faith be unto you," then His touch, and they see like other men, yet, unlike many, they see Jesus, their helper, and start forth to spread abroad His fame.

The next case is a dumb demon possessed man, and by a word he is healed. No wonder that the multitude said, "It was never so seen in Israel," for one like this had never been seen before. Whether we touch Him or He touches us or we speak the word, His power is manifest. Many we all touch Him in the consciousness of our helplessness and need, as the poor suffering woman did, and not indifferently, like the crowd.

Money will buy anything—except happiness; it will enable you to go anywhere except heaven.
